Solutions for Industrial Process Heating & Combustion Applications

Are you looking for VERI-FLAME Burner Controls?

Combustion Technology LLC has you covered.

If you are an OEM trying to support an existing customer base, service tech or end user wanting to avoid a costly and time consuming retrofit, we can help.

We stock direct replacements for many of the most popular units, including bases and scanners with same or next day shipping.

These are not rebuilt or reconditioned. They are new units, manufactured by the same company that built Veri-Flame controllers for Eclipse. All replacement units carry the same agency approvals as the originals.

For a direct replacement, find the controller model number located on the back of the plug in module and contact us for price and delivery. No re-wiring, just plug in the new unit when it arrives.
